[redacted]

2. Action: Approved, as modified, the transmittal to the NSC of the draft memorandum on intelligence support for the VOA with regard to Soviet jamming (IAC-D-11/1) with the attachment, the Report of USCIB (IAC-D-11). (The final form of the memorandum to the NSC, as transmitted, will be distributed as IAC-D-11/2.) It is understood that the State Department is about to conclude action which would provide for financing the new support for this fiscal year and part of next year. At the earliest date State will take this matter up with USCIB. It was suggested that the development of budget estimates for the military intelligence agencies should be based upon the bill of materials which could be secured from AFSA.

3. Action: In response to General Canine's memorandum (IAC-D-12) regarding the relationship of the U. S. intelligence agencies to those to be established by NATO and SHAPE, General Smith requested General Bolling to prepare a statement of the essential considerations which needed to be taken into account in the development of these new intelligence structures for consideration by the IAC and subsequent transmittal to General Gruenther by General Bolling. General Smith indicated that he considered the problem to be largely one of collection and dissemination and that he was confident that General Eisenhower and General Gruenther would both be cooperative and effective in establishing the necessary arrangements.
